The Family Tree

Pauline Walters

When you start to explore
The lineage of your "family-tree",
You never know whose name
Lodged in the branches will be.
You will find in each family
That several have the same name,
Even brothers spelled names differently
Yet it still meant the same.
The young people of today should pay
Heed to records; so much gets lost,
And keep family records up-to-date,
Even though there be a small cost.
It's exciting, entertaining, and worthwhile,
But it may "throw you into a spin,"
For one never knows just who"
May prove to be some "kith and kin."
So if you work very hard, and
Complete each and every "family-tree,"
It will be a wonderful heritage
To leave for posterity!

Dedication

"This little booklet is dedicated to our grandchildren Jeffrey Lee, Larry Alan, Candace Kay, Pamela Sue, and Michael Robert Walters, and though it contains only brief sketches of the "buried" history of these worthy families, it is hoped that it will be a gratification to them as they read this, and produce in them a desire to know more about the ones from whom they're descended.

We hope they will keep these records up-to-date to pass on to their progeny."

The information contained herein has been obtained through personal contacts and through letters from enquiries; from records of those who have passed on, from Genealogical Helper magazine, and from books and publications in Indiana State Library, Montgomery County Court House, Wenger Clan Notes, and other sources, and I have taken the liberty of using all information I have found and has been given me, and by these methods the grandchildren can keep the family trees up-to-date, and may they get a more complete lineage of each family than I have written.

The Linn Family

There were three Linn brothers that came from Ireland to America in 1730 or 1739, and landed in Pennsylvania. They were in Cumberland Co. according to History of Juniata and Susquehanna Valley Volumes I & II. (this Cumberland Co. later became part of Lancaster Co. Pa. These three brothers were Adam I, John, and Robert Linn (Lynn) Robert Linn married and had no daughter, and he died Sept 14, 1772. Having no sons they are not named as his descendants. Adam Linn I died in 1776. He had married Eleanor Jones. They had six children, Janet, James, Margaret, Adam II and Robert II, and Daniel. These last five were minors in 1776 when their father died. John Linn died in 1765 or 1766. His wife was Sarah ? Linn. His children were 1. Adam, 2. John Jr, 3. Margaret Linn m. John Hughes 4. Mary Linn m. William McGowan and 5. Jane Linn. Adam was past 21 when his father, John, died and he was the oldest child, and two of his sisters were old enough to be married, in 1765 or '66. John Linn I was born 1690 in Ireland. He settled on the Manor of the Mocks, now Adams Co. Pa. in April 1740. He died in Pa. John Linn I's son Adam was born 1740, in what is now West Moreland, Co. Pa. He later lived in a split of Westmoreland Co. called Bedford Co. Pa. where he owned land. Adam Linn b 1740 - d. 1810 Ohio - m. Jane Isabelle Alleberon in 1770 in Pa. She is of English origin. In 1804 they moved to Butler Co. Monroe, Ohio, close to Hamilton, Ohio, and it was here that Adam died in 1810 and is buried near Winterset, Ohio. His name is on a memorial tablet in Hamilton, Ohio, (his is the 30th name) as having served in American Revolutionary War. This tablets honors Revolutionary soldiers and also soldiers from Indian wars. Adams wife died in Ohio in 1815. When Adam left home for war of Independence, he slapped his hand on the thigh, saying, "I go for liberty!"

The National Archives sent me the information they had on Adam Linn that dates coincided with that he served under Capt. John McDowells 7th Regiment. Pa. Ft. Jonte, commanded by Col. William Irvine. He served from 1777 to 1781. He was a Lieut. I have his army record signed by him. Also Adam Linn his X mark Linn.

Adam Linn b 1740 Pa - d 1810 Ohio - had two sons (that I know about) James H. (my ancestor) and Adam Linn II that served in War of 1812. Adam Linn II b 1795 Pa - served under Captain Shaw. He volunteered instead of being drafted. He and James H. were both Presbyterians.

My information on the Linns has come from many sources and from several informants. From some I received no dates, and some didn't answer requests for family data. There may be many mistakes, but I have done the best I could with the information I was able to accumulate.

From Henry Linn, New Jersey, I received the three brother's families. Henry Linn is a descendant of John Linn, who died in 1793 Pa. John's son, Samuel b 1758 - d 1835, is his ancestor.

(There was an Adam Linn in frontier defense in Pa. He served a tour of active duty as a member of Lt. Samuel Johnson's Detachment West Moreland Co. Militia in 1791. In the Militia all able-bodied males, between 18 and 53, (white) were compelled to serve under the act of Mar 17, 1777 for Pa. Militia. They had to have a two months tour of duty. (He also seems like my Adam, but it's very hard to pin point specific Adams) Pa. Historical Society sent me this.

All of Adam's (b 1740 Pa - d 1810 Ohio) and Jane Isabelle Dickerson Linn's children went to Ohio at the same time as he went. Most of Adam Linn's b 1795 Pa - served with his children and all of James H. Linn's children came to Montgomery County, Indiana.

2. John Linn Jr.
3. Margaret Linn m John Hughes
4. Mary Linn m William McGowan
5. Jane Linn

I, II, and III are the three brothers that came from Ireland. Linn is a Scottish name, of celtic origin, and is older than the Christian era. Most all Linns are Protestants, was given in a book I read at State library on Hugh Linn family.

I have a notation given me by a Linn descendant that these three brothers fought in Battle of the Boyne between Ireland and Great Britain, but it must have been their father, because John was born in 1690 and that was the year of the Battle of the Boyne. Also this same informant said they come on ship Minerva from Amsterdam. Sometimes data gets mixed up as it passes from generation to generation.

Adam Linn b 1740 - d 1810 was a farmer. He was 64 years old when they moved from Pennsylvania to Ohio. He died in Liberty Township, Butler Co. Ohio in 1810. He is buried near Monrovia, Ohio.

Adam Linns descendants have had a Linn reunion every year for many years. In the early years it was held in Asbury Linn, Adams grandson's, beautiful grove, ½ mile east of Linnsburg, named for Linns, in Walnut Township, Montgomery County, Indiana. Today the Linn reunion in Montgomery County is held in Milligan Park at Crawfordsville, in August. All families aren't represented anymore, as were at the early reunions, and some of the younger generations do not know they are connected to the Linn families. The Linns here in this county of Montgomery have never done anything to make them famous, but they are hard-working, friendly, and good people. Some have, through diligent application to their businesses have acquired wealth, and others have not, but they one and all enjoy living and the companionship of their relatives and friends, and are liked by everyone.

The Linn Family

I Adam Linn b 1740 Pa. d 1810 Ohio m Jane Isabelle Hickerson in Pa. She died 1815 Ohio.

1.2 John Linn b 1770 Pa

2.2 James H. Linn b 11-28-1765 or 1771 Pa - d 1840 or 1846 - according to dates handed down he was born 1771 - died 1846, but he is buried next to his daughter, Elizabeth Linn Chesterson in Findley Chapel cemetery, 2 miles west of Whitesville, Indiana, and on his tombstone it says he was born 1765 - d 1840 - 75 years old. This coincides with family data that he was 72 when he came to Indiana with his son in 1837. He married Ella Skyles (Skiles) b 8-2 1778 Pa and d 12-11-1821 Ohio. When his son J. Harrison came to Montgomery County in 1837, James H. 72 years old, sat in a chair in a horsedrawn wagon all the way from Ohio to Indiana. He died 4-14-1840. He was a Republician.

1.3 Isabelle Linn b 1798 Pa.

2.3 John Linn b 1800 ~~in~~ Pa. m 1. Anna C. Slayback in 1822 She died in 1843, and was born in 1805. He m. 2. Susanna Fender, born 1822, the year he married his first wife. John Linn was a mason by trade but at time of his death in 1858 he owned 580 acres of land. He entered land in Walnut Township, Montgomery Co. in 1836, but didn't settle here till a little later. He returned to Ohio and told his brothers about the land here in Indiana and persuaded them to come here too, which they did in 1837. His first wife is buried in small cemetery across from Mace School, Mace, Indiana,

They had 2 children. It was 123 years ago in 1960, that James W. Linn came to Indiana in Walnut Township Montgomery Co. Indiana and bought land located 1½ miles southeast of Whitesville Indiana, three miles north of Ladoga on May 22, 1837. Deed was recorded Feb 1, 1838. When James W died in 1855, his son John Linn was named administrator of his estate.

Came in 1833 To IN

The land was heired by his nine living children, and also his second wife. One of his sons, Isaac, (twin brother to my grandfather Noah Linn, bought out other heirs. Upon Isaac's death, his son William A bought out Isaac's heirs, and William's son, Warner E. bought out all of William's heirs, and is present owner of this farm in 1960. So it has been in the same family for 123 years. James W. Linn is buried in Harshbarger Cemetery but if Nadelia, his first wife is buried there, we can't find her grave, nor is his second wife. Our farm lies next to this original farm of my g.g. grandfather James Washington Linn.

(These last six were born between 1786 and 1815, as John, James II and Adam III were the eldest children and Adam was born 1785, and their mother died in 1815, so they would have to be born in that time. I haven't found out anything about these families and whether or not they came to Indiana. If anyone reading this history should know about these six families, contact me at this address, Mrs Harold Walters, R. R. #1, New Ross, Indiana. I would greatly appreciate it. I have been told that James H. Linn, after his wife Ala died in 1821, Ohio, remarried, and his second wife had children by a former marriage who ran through with James H's first and belongings, and thus he made his home with his son Harrison and wife. My informant didn't know her name, nor whether she died or whether or not he might have divorced her. Anyway she didn't come to Montgomery Co. Indiana with them in 1837. I haven't verified this marriage as yet, but will later.
